The High lights of the guest lecture are:

- The ARCHIBUS SIMPLE™ is the way it structured the entire program to address all the aspects of infrastructure, real estate, facilities management & sustainability.
- The framework of this program enables all the stakeholders to contribute their content based on their local & current requirements so that they get the skilled resources (on par with world standards) in the domains that they are working.
- However the fundamental purpose & framework are not compromised. This makes the participants, content creators and the consumers to be on the same page and systematically attain their respective goals.
- This framework also brings in all bright minds together from academics, industry and SMEs making it a highly valued hub of knowledge and remarkable skill sets.
